CREDIT VALLEY BASS FISHING

By John Kendell

I pulled into the Terra Cotta Conservation Area with Derek McNair to check on the CRAA upwelling box. It was early June and bass season was fast approaching. After checking out the upwelling box Derek and I walked to Wolf Lake, a human-made lake in the Conservation Area to look for some bass after Bob Morris' suggestion. What a shock. In this little lake (about six acres) there were tons of bass. Derek and I saw some up to four pounds, but Bob has seen them close to six!

Well time passed and it was finally bass opener. Unfortunately our regular trip to the Honey Harbour area was ruined by the weather so my father and I headed to Terra Cotta for a look at the upwelling box and a try for some bass. We arrived at Wolf Lake expecting a crowd, but it was deserted. One car sat alone in the parking lot so we pulled the rods out in anticipation of some fish. I never would have believed it if I didn't see it. Literally every cast a fish hit our tube jigs, surface lures, and small crank baits. Most fish were about a pound, but I landed at least ten between two and four pounds. This year those one pound bass should be closer to two, and the many four pound bass may be five.

Are you surprised to hear about such great bass fishing in the Credit Valley? I was! But the Credit Valley Conservation Authority has been stocking bass into Wolf Lake for the last six years now, and according to CVCA

Biologist Bob Morris it is a fantastic local fishery that has been developed. Access into the Conservation Area is a nominal fee and fishing is aloud on Wolf lake for bass and Muskrat Lake for Trout (which was stocked by CRAA last year). The bass are self sustaining in Wolf lake, and there are thousands in this small lake. On opener there are some weeds but by August the lake has a lot of surface weed. Great for surface baits! Canoes and row boats are allowed on the lake, but they do not have any there to rent, so bring your own. There is some excellent shore access, but I suggest wearing rubber boots.

Where else is there fantastic bass fishing in the Credit Valley. From Streetsville to Port Credit smallmouth bass reside over the summer. Unfortunately this fishery has been severely damaged by many people fishing for the bass before the season opens. When the bass are caught their nests are left unprotected and the eggs and fry are eaten by chubs, dace, and small trout. Enjoy the fishery, but don't preseason fish!

The CVCA, MNR, and CRAA have also been involved with a project for the last four years transferring bass above the Streetsville Dam to establish a population as far up as Norval where habitat is very good. This will fill a void in the fishery and does not impact the trout because they utilize different parts of the river.

JUNE CONT'D

MAP TO CEDERVILLE PARK

Meet at 9:00 am

UPCOMING EVENTS

JUNE

CRAA WORKDAY (9:00 am - 4:00 pm)
CRAA will work on Silver Creek in Georgetown. CRAA will work with Izaak Walton Fly Fishers Club in Cederville Park (8th Line and Maple Ave.). We will construct bank stabilizers and lunker habitat, as well as deal with some beaver dams that are blocking fish migration. Bring your work gloves, shovel, and appetite. As usual we will hold a barbeque at the side of the river while we are working.

Bring your fishing rod along too. The area we are working in not only produces Steelhead, but has a fabulous speckled trout fishery.

11 CRAA ANNUAL PICNIC (9:30am to 3:30pm)

CRAA's Annual Picnic will be held at Dave Barr's Trout Club. Members will enjoy a barbeque, relaxation, and great fishing. You may keep the trout you catch (they're great eating), but they cost extra.

BRING YOUR ROD

Admission is $15.00 per family or $7.00 per person. This includes food, pop, and fishing.

Dave Barr's Trout Farm has a small lake that is loaded with Rainbow Trout. It is not uncommon to catch 50 to 100 trout a day averaging 2 lbs. Trout weigh up to 6 lbs.

CRAA IN THE NEWS

As time passes the Credit River Anglers Association becomes more and more common in the news. Whether its the Toronto Star, Mississauga News, Canadian Sportfishing, Ontario Out of Doors, Outdoor Canada, or the Real Fishing magazine (Bob Izumi's new magazine).

Why?

The media takes notice of who's doing the real work, especially when it comes to conservation work related to fisheries. Since 1989 when CRAA was founded a lot has been accomplished and the media has continually taken notice.

Since January 1994 there have been no less than a dozen articles discussing CRAA's work in the media. Topics include our fish ladder results, CRAA's rehabilitation work, our social events like the salmon tournament and barbecue, as well as regulation changes such as the proposed season changes to the lower Credit River currently waiting for public hearings with the MNR.

The point is CRAA is showing the whole community that we are here to stay! We're here to make the river a healthier place with more fish and wildlife.

You should be proud to be a member of CRAA.

MIRAMICHI RIVER TRIP

In September there will be a trip to the Miramichi River in New Brunswick that CRAA members are invited to participate in.

Dennis Tomichi, a long time member of CRAA has done the trip for the last two years with outstanding success. Dennis will be the coordinator of this years trip.

The trip is planned for five days. That's two days driving and three days fishing. The time frame is the last two weeks of September. The lodging will be at the Miramichi Lodge on the banks of the Miramichi River with two private pools. The cost? About $500.00 for everything. This includes meals (prepared by a chef and fit for a king), lodging in a cabin for six, a guide for each set of two anglers, and incredible Atlantic salmon fishing!

Last year Dennis landed four Atlantics and lost another ten in three days fishing. This is incredible late season action that you should be a part of. All you need is a fly rod (8 or 9 weight) some casting experience, and a strong arm. If you feel you don't have enough casting experience than you better come to the CRAA Annual picnic for some lessons.

If you are interested please call Dennis Tomichi at (905) 793-8743.

SALMON RIVER TRIP - PULASKI NEW YORK

In late October or early November CRAA will hold a second fishing trip. This time the famed Salmon River in Pulaski New York. The guide will be CRAA member Jay D'Andrea who has fished the Salmon River many times kin the last five years.

We have chosen the Halloween time because it consistently produces big fish and lots of them. The Salmon River has a tremendous run of steelhead and Pacific salmon during the fall from a combination of intense stocking and some natural reproduction. The steelhead that are stocked into the Salmon River are from Washington State and are winter run fish that grow BIG. The river is about two to three times larger than the Credit River with a proportionally similar run of fish.

The trip will probably be four days, two half days driving and three days of fishing. We will be staying at a hotel in Pulaski. If your interested in this trip lease call the CRAA Hotline at (905) 608-0169. Watch for more details in the September Light Lines.

Over 70 bass were transferred last year. If you catch a bass, especially a tagged one please report it to Bob Morris at the CVCA at (905) 670-1615.

The Orangeville Resevior is another location that holds massive amounts of bass in the Credit Valley. The resevior is a flooded gravel pit that was filled twenty years ago. It now has a very large bass and pike population. Bass up to six pounds have been caught every year and the largest pike is 23 pounds. The bass average two to three pounds and the pike average three to eight pounds. The fishing can be fantastic so make sure you give it a try. There is a boat rental on the lake at the parking area and the entrance fee is nominal. There is ample shore fishing available as well as, sand beaches, trails and picnic areas. It's a great place for the whole family and there are lots of panfish for the youngsters to catch. People are encouraged to keep the pike out of the lake because some travel down the river into sensitive brook trout waters causing serious damage to the fragile native trout population. There is also a bass tournament held every summer on the lake with thousands of dollars in prizes. It is catch and release with bass boats aloud, but combustion motors are not aloud in the lake. Electric motors or paddle power only. Information can be obtained from Bob Morris at the CVCA.

Good luck fishing. Bass season opens June 24 in the Credit Valley this year.
